1 The Court should deny Defendants Glen Marvin Lineberry, Sherry Dorathy, and the 2 Miami Unified School District #40's (collectively, the "Defendants") motion to file a 15-3 page reply brief in support of their motion to dismiss. Defendants have failed to identify 4 good cause justifying additional pages for their reply brief for at least three reasons.

5 First, neither Defendants' motion to dismiss nor Plaintiff Michelle Pettitt's response
6 opposing that motion required additional pages. Both stayed within the 17-page limit set
7 by this Court. See Dkt. 24, 29. As noted in Pettitt's response, Defendants' motion to dismiss 8 engaged in a shotgun approach in which they made a series of superficial and 9 underdeveloped attacks on the Complaint to see what sticks.<sup>1</sup> Defendants cannot use an 10 extended reply brief to try and clean up what they failed to do in their motion.

11 Second, Defendants are using their additional pages to raise new arguments for the 12 first time in their reply brief. For instance, Defendants' motion argued in a cursory fashion 13 that "the Rooker-Feldman doctrine precludes Plaintiff from asking this Court to declare the 14 injunction void." Dkt. 24 at 9. Pettitt's response effectively demonstrated that Rooker-
15 Feldman does not apply for at least two reasons. Dkt. 29 at 13-14. Now, in their lodged 16 reply brief, Defendants change their argument. Their reply now argues that "Plaintiff cites 17 no Arizona law authorizing a separate lawsuit to declare void a previously upheld injunction 18 against workplace harassment." Dkt. 33 at 11. Not only is that not the argument Defendants 19 made in their motion to dismiss, but it is misleading and incorrect. Defendants fail to cite 20 long-standing Arizona authority holding the exact opposite. See, e.g., Shinn v. Ariz. Board
21 of Executive Clemency, 254 Ariz. 255, 262 ¶ 26 (2022) ("A void order or judgment has no
22 legal effect and 'may be set aside or vacated at any time,' rendering it subject to 'collateral
23 attack.'" (emphasis in original)); Legacy Found. Action Fund v. Citizens Clean Elections 24 Comm'n, 254 Ariz. 485, 491 ¶ 19 (2023) ("For more than a century Arizona courts have 25 recognized that," when "a judgment is 'void upon its face' and has no legal effect," the

26 <sup>1</sup> For example, Defendants' motion repeatedly argued that Heck barred attacking the 27 injunction against harassment as void, but they literally made no showing as to how Heck
28 applied to a civil injunction. See Dkt. 24 at 6, 9. Now, in their lodged reply brief, Defendants abandon their Heck argument, making no mention of that undeveloped argument because Heck clearly does not bar attacks on civil injunctions.

1 judgment is “‘subject to attack at any time,’ including in a collateral proceeding.”); Nat’l
 2 Union Indem. Co v. Bruce Bros, 44 Ariz. 454, 467-68 (1934) (“[The Legislature] has 3 declared the contract void ab initio. This can be considered nothing but an expression of 4 public policy upon the part of the state, and neither the court nor any litigant has the right
 5 to waive the provisions of the act. It is the duty of the court . . . to declare the law, and no 6 party may recover in an action where the right of recovery must rest in some manner upon 7 the void contract.”); Santa Cruz Cnty. v. State of Ariz., et al., Maricopa County Superior
 8 Court, Case No. CV2024-032742, at *12 (Mar. 17, 2026) (“As the Supreme Court declared
 9 in National Union, neither the Court nor any party can waive the provision of A.R.S. § 38-
 10 431.05(A) declaring acts in violation of [Arizona’s] OML [open-meeting laws] ‘null and 11 void.’”).

12 Third, Defendants are using their extended reply to make new factual arguments that 13 expressly contradict the Complaint’s allegations. For instance, Defendants argue that 14 “[s]ince the complaint alleges that the grand jury indictment was based on Plaintiff’s
 15 unauthorized presence on District property [on November 8, 2022], the three emails 16 Plaintiff sent in 2022 were not ‘so clearly exculpatory that the grand jury, had they seen the 17 emails, would have found no probable cause’ to indict Plaintiff.” Dkt. 33 at 5. Defendants 18 repeat this same statement throughout their reply. Id. at 4, 5, 12. But that is exact opposite 19 of what Pettitt alleges. Paragraph 115 of the Complaint alleges: “The indictment, however, 20 was not based on any new allegations, including the November 8, 2022 allegations. Instead, 21 the indictment was based only on the same three emails sent on July 3, 4, and 5, 2022 as 22 detailed in Paragraphs 97(a)-(d) of the Complaint.” Dkt. 1 at ¶ 115 (emphasis added).
 23 Further, Pettitt alleges that Lineberry and Dorathy knowingly provided false reports to 24 Deputy Winget and that Deputy Winget repeated those false reports when he testified before 25 the grand jury. Id. at ¶¶ 91-93, 115-118.

26 The Court should thus deny Defendants leave to file a 15-page reply brief.
 27 Defendants are using their expanded page limit for their reply brief to raise new legal 28 arguments and to make factual arguments that contradict Plaintiff’s well-pled Complaint.
